THE STATES, in pursuance of their Resolution of the 26th day of April, 1995(a), have approved the following provisions which, subject to the Sanction of Her Most Excellent Majesty in Council, shall have force of law in the Bailiwick of Guernsey.

PART I

THE OFFENCE OF INSIDER DEALING

Insider dealing.

1. (1) An individual who has information as an insider is guilty of insider dealing if, in the circumstances mentioned in subsection (3), he deals in securities which are price affected securities in relation to the information.

(2) An individual who has information as an insider is also guilty of insider dealing if-

- (a) he encourages another person to deal in securities which are (whether or not that other knows it) price affected securities in relation to the information, knowing or having reasonable cause to believe that the dealing would take place in the circumstances mentioned in subsection (3); or
- (b) he discloses the information, otherwise than in the proper performance of the functions of his employment, office or profession, to another person.

(a) Article VIII of Billet d'État No. IX of 1995.

(3) The circumstances referred to above are that the acquisition or disposal in question occurs on a regulated market, or that the person dealing relies on a professional intermediary or is himself acting as a professional intermediary.

(4) This section has effect subject to section 2.

Defences.

2. (1) An individual is not guilty of insider dealing by virtue of dealing in securities if he shows that-

- (a) he did not at the time expect the dealing to result in a profit attributable to the fact that the information in question was price sensitive information in relation to the securities;
- (b) at the time he believed on reasonable grounds that the information had been disclosed widely enough to ensure that none of those taking part in the dealing would be prejudiced by not having the information; or
- (c) he would have done what he did even if he had not had the information.

(2) An individual is not guilty of insider dealing by virtue of encouraging another person to deal in securities if he shows that-

- (a) he did not at the time expect the dealing to result in a profit attributable to the fact that the information in question was price sensitive information in relation to the securities;
- (b) at the time he believed on reasonable grounds that the information had been or would be disclosed widely enough to ensure that none of those taking part in the dealing would be prejudiced by not having the information; or

- (c) he would have done what he did even if he had not had the information.

(3) An individual is not guilty of insider dealing by virtue of a disclosure of information if he shows-

- (a) that he did not at the time expect any person, because of the disclosure, to deal in securities in the circumstances mentioned in section 1(3); or
- (b) that, although he had such an expectation at the time, he did not expect the dealing to result in a profit attributable to the fact that the information was price sensitive information in relation to the securities.

(4) Schedule 1 (special defences) shall have effect.

(5) The States may by Ordinance amend Schedule 1.

(6) In this section references to a profit include references to the avoidance of a loss.

- (b) that an offence under the laws of another country or territory relating to insider dealing may have been committed and that a person in the Bailiwick-
  - (i) may have been concerned (directly or indirectly) in the commission of any such offence; or
  - (ii) may have information or documents which may be of assistance in the investigation of any such offence;

he may appoint one or more competent inspectors to carry out such investigations as are requisite to establish or assist in establishing whether or not any such offence has been committed and, if so, to investigate it, and to report the results of their investigations to him.

(2) The appointment under this section of an inspector may limit the period during which the inspector is to continue his investigation or confine it to particular matters.

(3) At any time during the investigation Her Majesty's Procureur may vary the appointment by limiting or extending the period during which the inspector is to continue his investigation or by confining the investigation to particular matters.

(4) If the inspectors consider that any person is or may be able to give information concerning any such offence, or that any person is or may be in possession or control of any documents relevant to the investigation, they may require that person-

- (a) to attend before them;
- (b) to produce to them any documents in his possession or under his control which appear to them to be relevant to the investigation; and
- (c) to reply to such questions and to furnish such information as they consider to be necessary for the purposes of the investigation and otherwise to give them all assistance in connection with the investigation which he is reasonably able to give;

and the inspectors may also exercise the following powers in relation to any documents considered by them to be relevant for the purposes of the investigation-

- (i) they may take copies or extracts of them;
- (ii) they may retain them for the purposes of the investigation or, if they suspect that they may otherwise be destroyed, damaged, tampered with or removed, take any other steps necessary to preserve them or protect them from interference;

(iii) if they consider that any person is or may be able to provide an explanation of them or of anything in them, they may require that person to provide such an explanation; and

(iv) in relation to any documents which are not furnished to them in accordance with their requirements, they may require any person to state to the best of his knowledge and belief their whereabouts (whether or not that person is in possession or control of the documents).

(5) An inspector may examine on oath any person who he considers is or may be able to give information concerning any such offence and may administer an oath accordingly.

(6) The inspectors shall make such interim reports to Her Majesty's Procureur as they think fit or he may direct and on the conclusion of the investigation they shall make a final report to him.

(7) If Her Majesty's Procureur thinks fit, he may direct the inspectors to take no further steps in the investigation or to take only such further steps as are specified in the direction; and, where an investigation is the subject of such a direction, the inspectors shall make a final report to Her Majesty's Procureur only where Her Majesty's Procureur directs them to do so.

(9) Subject to subsections (10) and (11), no obligation or duty of secrecy or of confidence nor any other restriction on the disclosure of information to which a person is subject, whether imposed by statute, contract or otherwise, shall be regarded as being contravened by reason of the compliance by that person with a requirement imposed under this section.

(15) For the purposes of subsection (14) there shall be treated as expenses of the investigation, in particular, such reasonable sums as Her Majesty's Procureur may determine in respect of general staff costs and overheads.

(16) Functions conferred by this section on inspectors may, where more than one inspector is appointed, be exercised by any one or more of them.

Search warrants.

11. (1) If on the application of Her Majesty's Procureur the Bailiff is satisfied by information on oath-

- (a) that there are reasonable grounds for suspecting that there are on any premises documents (whether or not they can be particularised) likely to be of relevance (whether by themselves or together with other documents) to an investigation under section 10; and
- (b) that the investigation might be seriously prejudiced unless immediate entry can be secured to the premises;

he may grant a warrant authorising an officer of police and any other person named in the warrant to enter and search the premises, using such force as may be reasonably necessary for the purpose.

(2) A person acting under the authority of a warrant granted under subsection (1) may-

- (a) make such inspection and examination of the premises in respect of which the warrant was granted; and
- (b) require any person thereon to reply to such questions and to furnish such information and documents;

as he considers to be necessary for the purposes of the investigation; and he may also exercise the following powers in relation to any documents considered by him to be relevant for the purposes of the investigation-

- (i) he may take copies or extracts of them;

- (ii) he may seize them, or take any other steps necessary to preserve them or protect them from interference, if he suspects that they may otherwise be destroyed, damaged, tampered with or removed;
- (iii) if he considers that any person is or may be able to provide an explanation of them or of anything in them, he may require that person to provide such an explanation; and
- (iv) in relation to any documents which are not furnished to him in accordance with his requirements, he may require any person to state to the best of his knowledge and belief their whereabouts (whether or not that person is in possession or control of the documents).

(3) A person seeking to exercise any power conferred by this section in relation to any premises shall, if so requested by the owner or occupier of the premises, furnish evidence of his office or authority.

(4) A statement made by a person in compliance with a requirement imposed under this section may be used in evidence against him.

(5) Subject to subsection (6), no obligation or duty of secrecy or of confidence nor any other restriction on the disclosure of information to which a person is subject, whether imposed by statute, contract or otherwise, shall be regarded as being contravened by reason of the compliance by that person with a requirement imposed under this section.

(6) A person shall not under this section be required to disclose any information or produce any document which he would be entitled to refuse to disclose or produce on grounds of legal professional privilege in proceedings in the Royal Court; but an advocate or other legal adviser may be required to give the name and address of any client.

(7) Where a person claims a lien on a document its production under this section shall be without prejudice to his lien.

(8) No person seeking to exercise any power conferred by this section shall be obliged to divulge his reasons for belief or suspicion when exercising that power.

(9) In this section-

(a) "document" includes information recorded in any form; and in relation to information recorded otherwise than in legible form the power to require its production includes power to require the production of a copy of the information in legible form;

(b) "premises" includes any place, vehicle, vessel or aircraft.

Assistance for proceedings in other jurisdictions.

12. (1) Her Majesty's Procureur may, if satisfied that any material produced or seized under this Law is likely to be of relevance to criminal proceedings in a country or territory outside the Bailiwick in respect of a contravention of the laws thereof relating to insider dealing, may make an ex parte application to the Bailiff for permission to transmit that material to the prosecuting authorities of the country or territory for the purposes of those proceedings, and the Bailiff may grant permission in that behalf on such conditions as he thinks fit.

(2) It shall be a condition of any permission granted by the Bailiff under subsection (1) that the material in question shall be returned to the Bailiwick authorities within such period as may be specified in the permission or, if no period is so specified, within a period of 7 days of any request in that behalf being made by Her Majesty's Procureur.

(3) The Bailiff's decision on an application under subsection (1) (including his decision as to the conditions subject to which permission is to be granted) is final.

Retention of documents.

13. Any documents produced or seized pursuant to the powers conferred by this Law may be retained-

- (a) for a period of 3 months (or such longer period as the Bailiff may determine upon the ex parte application of Her Majesty's Procureur); or
- (b) if proceedings to which the documents are relevant are instituted within that period, or if the Bailiff grants permission under section 12 to transmit the documents to the prosecuting authorities of another country or territory for the purposes of criminal proceedings there, until the conclusion of those proceedings.

PART IV

- (c) the professional intermediary was within the Bailiwick at the time when he is alleged to have done anything by means of which the offence is alleged to have been committed.

(2) An individual is not guilty of an offence falling within section 1(2) unless-

- (a) he was within the Bailiwick at the time when he is alleged to have disclosed the information or encouraged the dealing; or functions upon the Commission); and the Court may give a direction under this section notwithstanding that the offender is not within the jurisdiction of the Court if the Court is satisfied that he was notified of his right to appear before the Court and of the powers available under this section.

(3) A person shall not be treated for the purposes of subsection (2) as having a reasonable excuse for refusing to comply with a requirement or answer a question in a case where the offence or suspected offence being investigated relates to dealing by him on the instructions or for the account of another person, by reason of the fact that at the time of the refusal-

- (a) he did not know the identity of that other person; or
