PROJET DE LOI

ENTITLED

"Exchange Control (Special Provisions) Law, 1947".

Whereas it is necessary to conserve the Exchange resources of the United Kingdom and other members of the Sterling Area and to apply those resources in the manner most expedient for the maintenance of the economic life of the countries comprised in that Area ;

And whereas for these purposes there has been enacted in the United Kingdom an Act entitled the Exchange Control Act, 1947 ;

And whereas provision is made in the said Act for the extension thereof, with such modifications, if any, as His Majesty may by Order in Council specify, to the Channel Islands ;

Now, therefore, the States, being of the opinion that the maintenance of the economic life of the Bailiwick of the Island of Guernsey requires that it shall be a member of the Sterling Area, have approved the following provision which, subject to the Sanction of His Most Excellent Majesty in Council, shall have force of law in the said Bailiwick :

Any Order or other Instrument made by the Treasury under the Exchange Control Act, 1947, as extended to the Channel Islands, shall have effect in the said Bailiwick without registration therein from the day upon which such Order or other Instrument is expressed to come into operation.

PETER J. MAUGER,
H.M. Greffier.
