Provided that nothing in this subsection shall entitle any person –

10. (1) Where plans of a building or an extension of a building are, in accordance with regulations made under the Building (Guernsey) Law, 1956, deposited with [the Development & Planning Authority], [the Development & Planning Authority] shall reject the plans unless either the plans show to the satisfaction of [the Development & Planning Authority] that satisfactory provision will be made for the drainage of the building or of the extension, as the case may be, or [the Development & Planning Authority] is satisfied that in the case of the particular building or extension it may properly dispense with any provision for drainage.

(2) Any person aggrieved by a decision of [the Development & Planning Authority] rejecting any plans under the provisions of the last preceding subsection may, within twenty-eight days from the date of the service on him of a notice of such rejection, appeal to the Royal Court, which may either confirm the decision of [the Board] rejecting such plans or order that any provision for drainage be dispensed with, or, as the case may be, that the provision for drainage proposed to be provided be accepted as satisfactory.

(3) A proposed drain shall not be deemed to be a satisfactory drain for the purposes of this section unless it is proposed to be made as [the Development & Planning Authority], or as the Royal Court on an appeal made under the provisions of the last preceding subsection, may require, either to connect with a sewer, or to discharge into a cesspool or into some other place:

Provided that, subject to the provisions of the next succeeding subsection, a drain shall not be required to be made to connect with a public sewer unless –

- (a) that sewer is within one hundred feet of the site of the building or, in the case of an extension, the site either of the extension or of the original building, and is at a level which makes it reasonably practicable to construct a drain to connect therewith, and

- (b) the intervening land is land through which that person is entitled to construct a drain.

(4) Notwithstanding anything in proviso (a) to the last preceding subsection, a drain may be required to be made to connect with a public sewer which is not within the distance mentioned in that proviso if [the Board] undertakes to bear so much of the expenses reasonably incurred in constructing, and in maintaining and repairing, the drain as may be attributable to the fact that the distance of the public sewer exceeds the distance so mentioned.

(5) Any dispute arising as to the amount of any payment to be made to a person under the last preceding subsection shall be determined by arbitration in accordance with the provisions of section twenty-two of this Law.

Provisions as to drainage, etc., of existing buildings.

11. (1) If it appears to [the Board] that in the case of any building –
- (a) satisfactory provision has not been, and ought to be, made for drainage, or
  - (b) any cesspool, private sewer, drain, soil pipe, rain water pipe, spout, sink or other necessary appliance provided for the building, is insufficient or, in the case of a private sewer or drain connecting directly or indirectly with a public sewer, is so defective as to admit subsoil water, or

(2) Notwithstanding the provisions of the last preceding subsection, where the drains of a building are not connected with a public sewer [the Board] may in its discretion by notice in writing require the owner of the building to make satisfactory provision for the connection thereof with a public sewer where –
